

Avado Hub UI updates

Bec Penn

We've got a brand new platform, but it's not perfect! Lightbox Studio have made some improvements...

A bit of history

We used to have our own platform, called the Avado Learning Platform (ALP)

The screenshot shows the Avado Learning Platform (ALP) user interface for Sarah Igniton. The header includes the Avado logo and 'Squared Online' branding, along with the user's name and profile icon. A personalized greeting reads 'Hi Sarah, Welcome to Skills Ignition SG!'. Below this, a message states: 'You're about to embark on an exciting Digital Marketing journey. To learn more, select the button below.' A green button labeled 'Get Started with Skills Ignition SG' is provided. To the right is an illustration of a person working on a laptop. The main content area features a 'Weekly Activities: Week 31 Aug - 6 Sep' section with a list of items: 'Get Started with Skills Ignition', 'Welcome to Squared Online', 'Live Class', and two 'Fundamentals of Digital Marketing' modules. To the right of this list are two utility boxes: 'Download your Skills Ignition SG Schedule' with a 'Download' button, and 'Need Help?' with contact information (Tel: 6876 7910, Email: ignition.support@avadolearning.com) and a 'Support Center' button. At the bottom, three course cards are visible: 'Welcome to Squared Online', 'Embracing Change Module', and 'Customer-Centricity Module'.

Moving to TI

The UI of this platform is very different from the ALP, and functionality is slightly different. But as a platform out-of-the-box it's easy to navigate and we can do simple things like add our logo and 1 or 2 brand colours.

Boost your CV

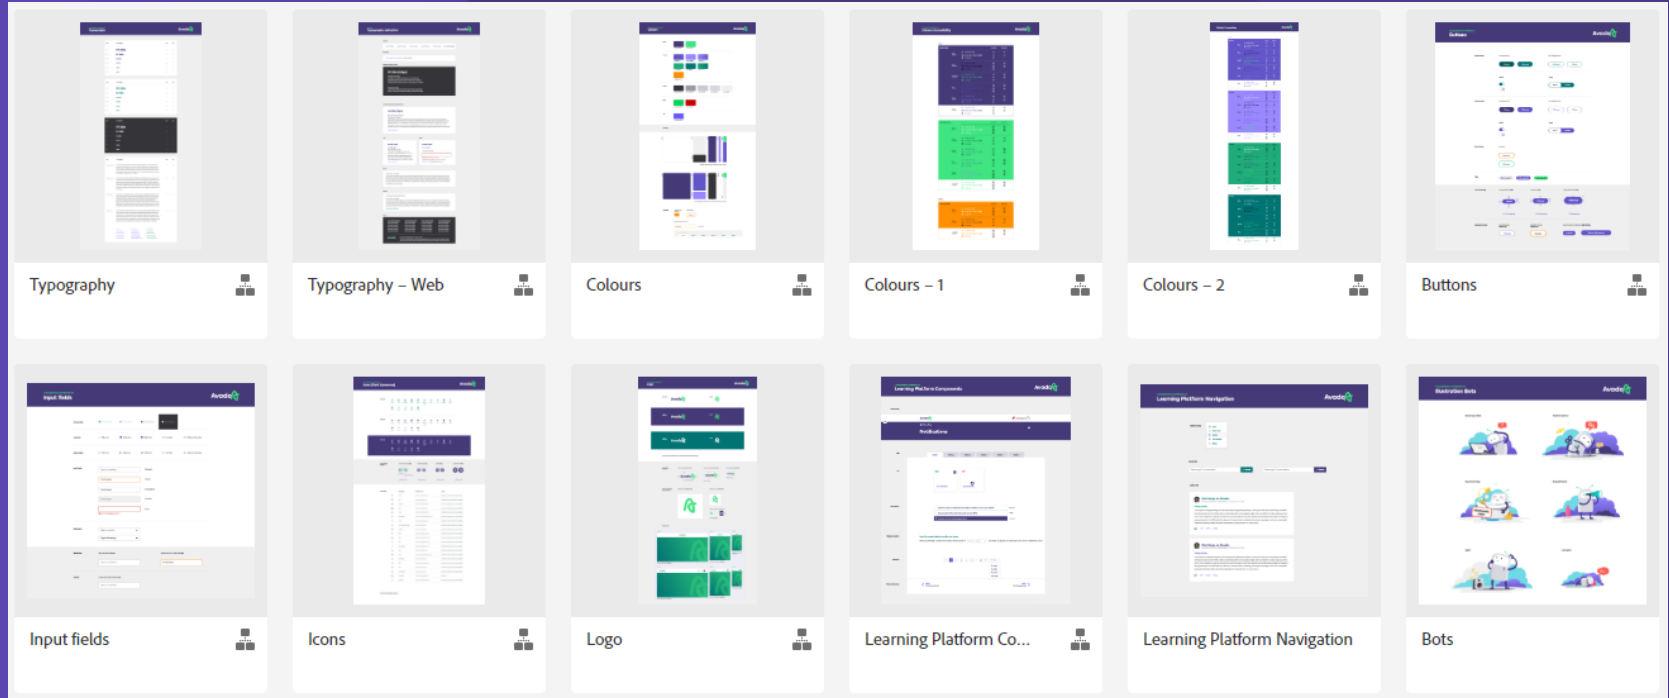

The key to joining a great team is having a great CV! This is your story. Your opportunity to show your voice and personal brand. It should be unique to you and look professional.

A CV (Curriculum Vitae) is a written document that outlines your skills, education and work experience. It is an essential part of any job search. First impressions count, and this document is often the first thing a recruiter or hiring manager will see when looking at applicants.

Although there is no official structure of a CV, it should contain some key information that is concise and easy to find. This includes:

Label vs button

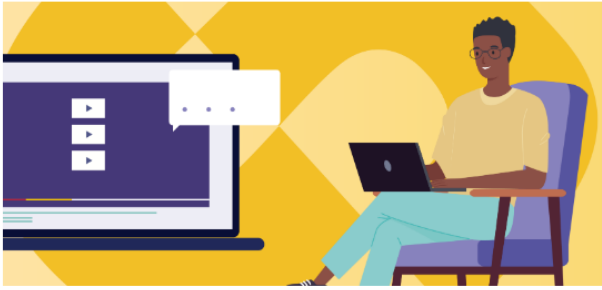

Let's not get those two confused! If a section is required to be completed in order to successfully finish the course, there's this little label on it to say so.

The image displays two examples of a course card for 'Safeguarding'. Both cards feature an illustration of a first aid kit, a bandage, a face mask, and two people wearing masks. The top card has an orange 'REQUIRED' label with a teal arrow pointing to it, and a dark blue 'Start Course' button. To its right is the text '✗ before'. The bottom card has a grey 'Required' label and a blue 'Start Course' button. To its right is the text '✓ after'.

Get inspired

You've done it! You've made it through a series of challenges, learnt new disciplines and got through all the modules.

Now there's just one final hurdle for you to overcome. This is where the hard work truly starts, as you prepare to set off on your journey into the world of work.

How does that sound? Exciting? Intimidating? Both?

Job hunting can be a challenge at the best of times, and putting yourself forward in front of a team of strangers who are competing you against others can be tough. How do you prove your worth? How do you stand out among the competition? And how do you come across as professional and credible?

In this module we'll help you answer these questions and guide you through all the important aspects of the process – including CV writing, networking on social media and interviews. We'll support you every step of the way, so you can confidently chase your dreams in these difficult times.

We'll kick this module off with the calling card needed to get employers' attention in the application process, your CV. Then, we'll look at how you can harness the power of social media to get yourself noticed among industry insiders, and nail that job interview.
